

ZIBU & ZIZO

Zibu and Zizo
are twin brothers.

'They look the same,'
people always say.

An illustration showing a woman with large, curly brown hair and a red top with a green patterned skirt, seen from behind on the left. In the center, two children, a boy and a girl, are walking away from her towards the right. Both children are wearing blue backpacks and matching red and green shorts. The girl is carrying a yellow basket. They are walking on a grassy hill under a light blue sky.

Mama buys them
the same clothes.

They go to the same school.

Zibu and Zizo both like banana bread.

Sometimes
Zibu and Zizo say ...

Hello!!

... at the same time.

Zibu likes soccer.

Zizo likes
drawing pictures.

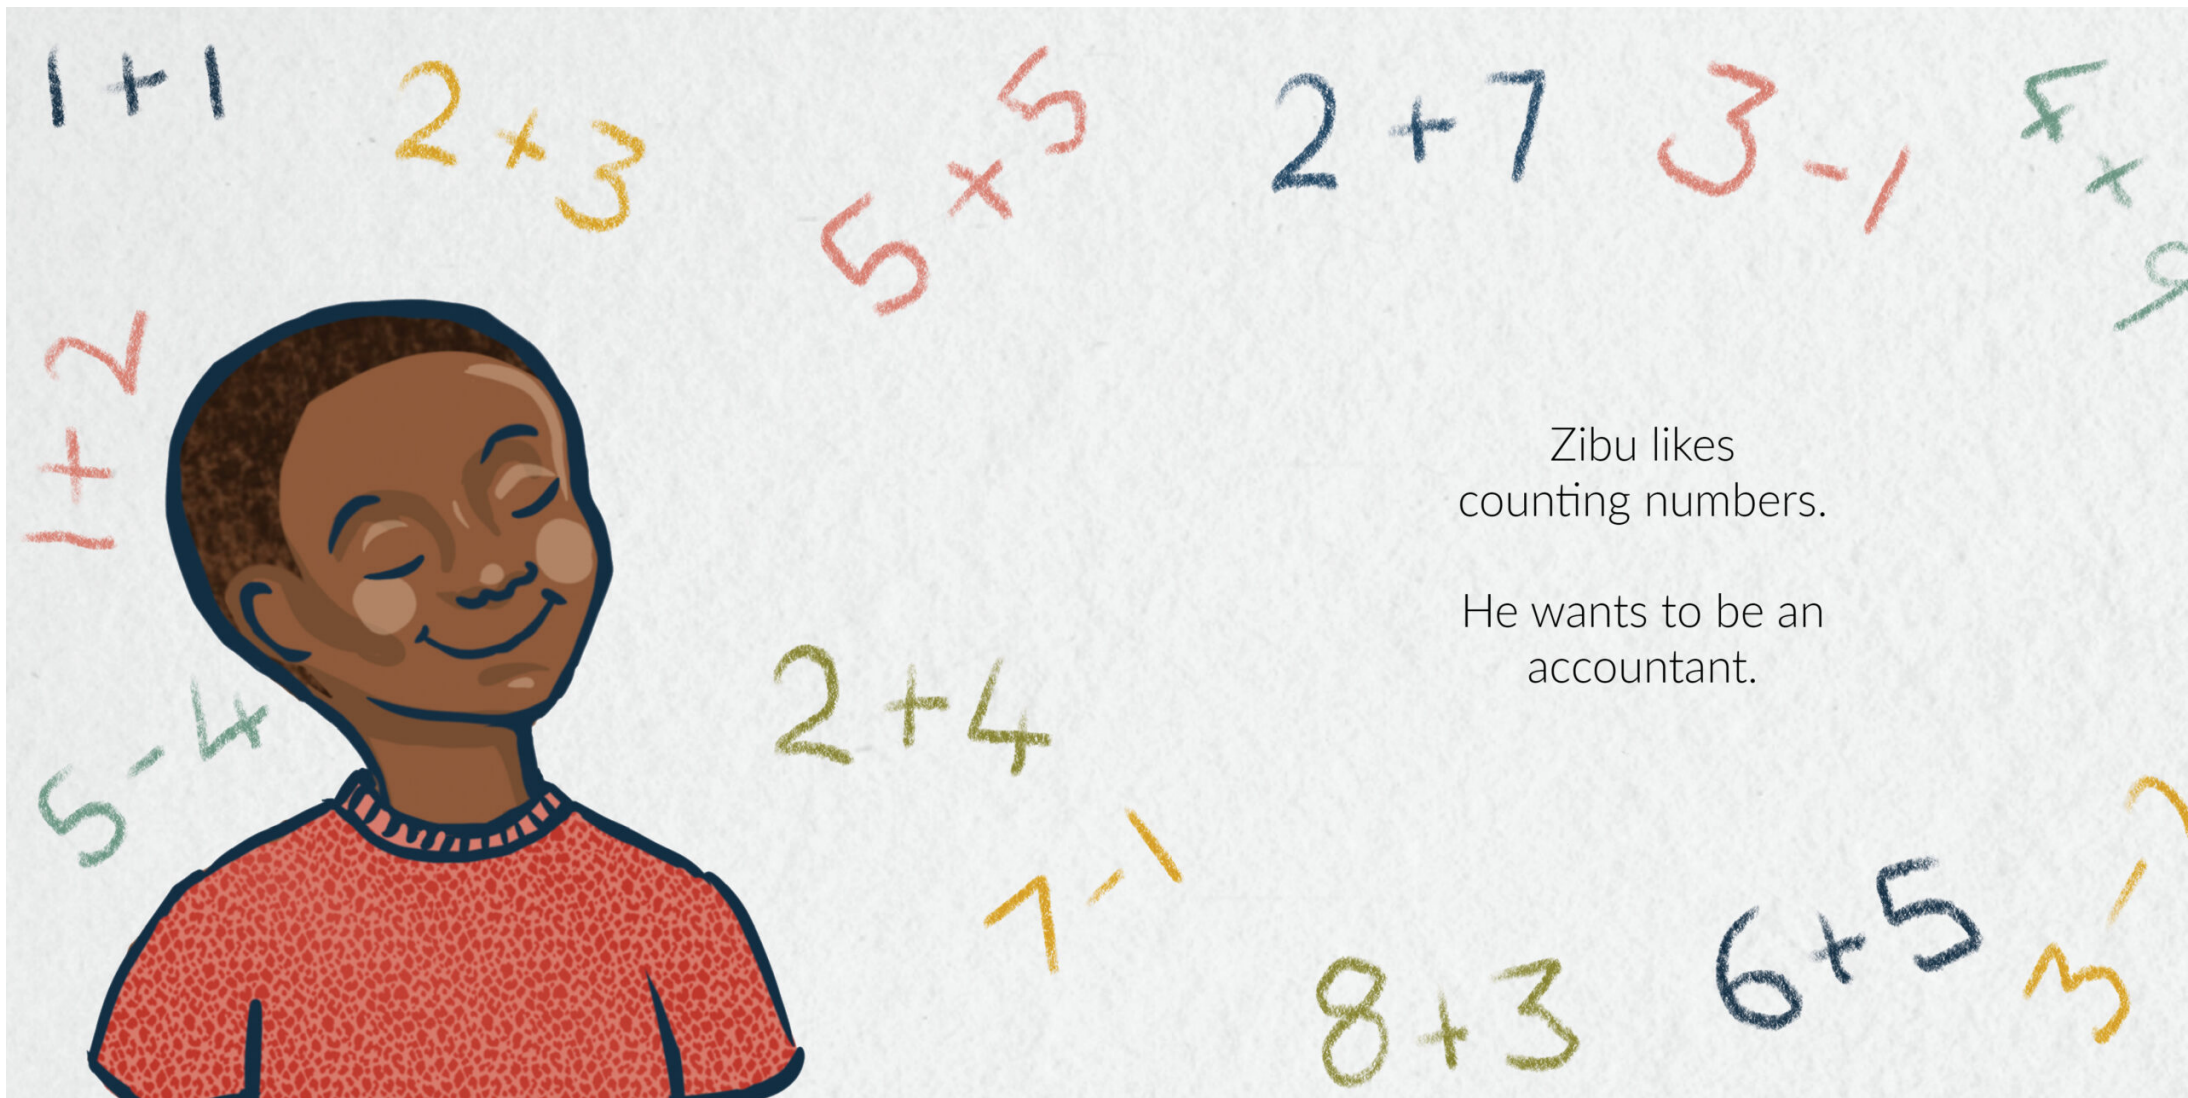

Zibu likes to talk to people.

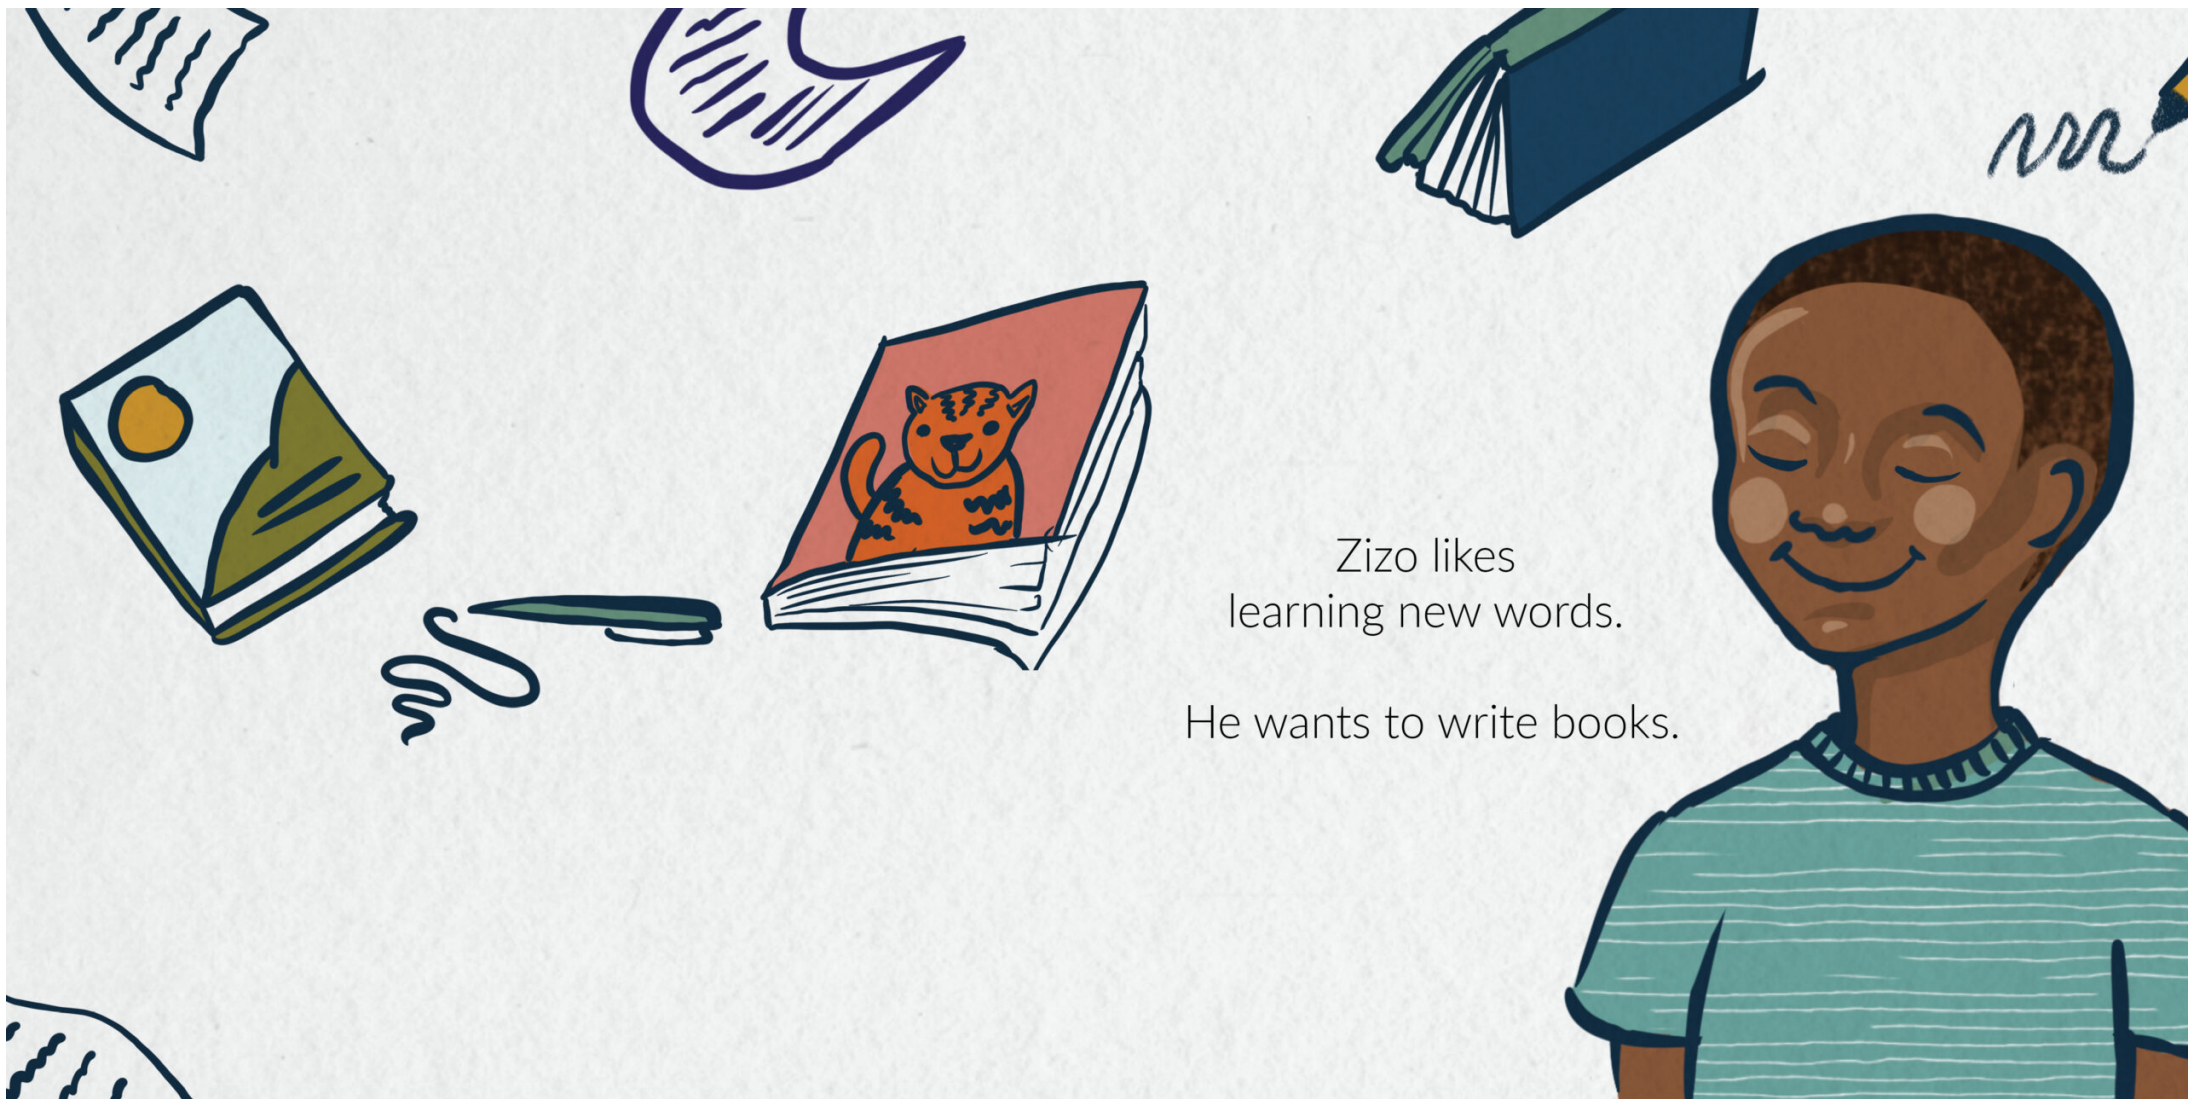

Zizo likes to keep to himself.

Zibu likes counting numbers.

He wants to be an accountant.

Zizo likes
learning new words.

He wants to write books.

'How come Zibu and Zizo look the same,
but like different things?'
ask the children at school.

'We look the same,
but we are different and like different things and that's okay.'

Zibu and Zizo

Original picturebook by Book Dash.

Created by: Angela Briggs (Editor); Refilwe Nsibande (Writer); Josephine Versfeld (Illustrator); Heni Andrag (Designer)

Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 (CC BY 4.0).

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>

Original source: <https://bookdash.org/books/zibu-and-zizo/>

Original illustrated spreads and embedded English text are preserved. This printable PDF was assembled by Little Leaf, with attribution and this credits page added. It is a website-prepared edition, not the publisher's downloadable PDF.

Age, reading level, theme and recommendation are editorial suggestions. No affiliation with or endorsement by Book Dash.